has a three-percent increase in his salary to $32,403.80. Rosas told the Council he will begin college this fall to complete the two years he needs to graduate. After graduation, he plans to resign his job with the City. The Council agreed to work with him while he attends college and continues with his job.

Discussed at the May meeting was the longstanding water leak at the intersection of TX194 and CR625 (Cemetery Road). The Cemetery's water system has not been operational for some years, according to Sarah Hart, president of the Hart Cemetery Association.

Mayor Stanley Dyer suggested the City and Castro County both contribute to the repairs. And, the Cemetery Association has offered financial assistance. (The Pulse does not have the official status of the water leaks at presstime.)

Dyer told the Council that 61 votes were cast in the recent City Election, which returned Paul Ramirez and Eliazar Castillo to their seats, and newcomer Vickie Ethridge. (Ethridge has served on the council in years past.)

Dyer had requested that upkeep of Tom's Corner, the park area adjacent to the Fire Station and Water Tower, and the park at the American Legion be discussed. No action was taken, and the matter was tabled.
