

Weldon & Jonalyn Jones Are Parade Marshals

continued from Page 1

selling Jonalyn's art pieces, but also wooden furniture and yard decor crafted by Weldon and decorated by Jonalyn.

Weldon is a recipient of Lions' International's most prestigious award named after its founder, Melvin Jones. He also used to be a good bowler, having come in third place in a state bowling tournament when he lived in Happy.

Son Kelly and his wife, B.J., live in Lewisville. Kelly works for AT&T, and B.J. and daughter Kelsie both are employed by Rumsey Construction. Their son, Zach, works for Explorer Pipeline Company of Dallas and son Blake is employed by ACT Pipe & Supply of Fort Worth.

Weldon and Jonalyn's son, Scott, lives in Canyon and is employed at Pantex, where he serves as a paramedic and a firefighter.

Extracurricular/Athletic

Handbook Adopted

(continued from Page 1)

the punishment in the week period, he/she will be released from Athletics for 365 days, and still must complete the punish-

3-on-3

Basketball

Tournament Set For July 25

The annual 3-on-3 Hart Days basketball tournament is set for Saturday, July 25. Games will begin at 1 p.m. at Carl's Courts.

Hart ISD Coach Ruby Romero is coordinating the event. To register, or for more information, email her at ruby.romero@region16.net by July 20. Also, she can be contacted by calling 647-8008.

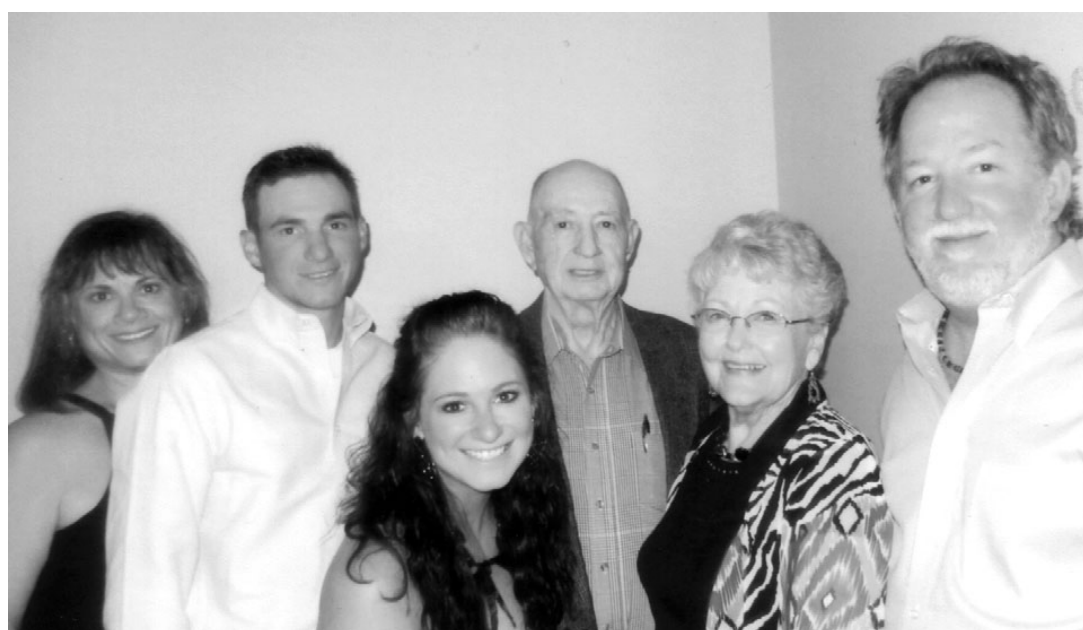

The tournament is a double-elimination event, and entry fee is $60 per team.

ment to return to Athletics after the 365 days. For those athletes who do not meet these physical requirements, they will not participate in that sport the rest of their high school career.

Board member Angelica Ramirez asked Perryman who would be held accountable for enforcing the handbook. He said that as long as he is employed at Hart ISD, he will see that it's enforced for the sport he is coaching. (Ken Rosser, superintendent, is also the Athletic Director.) The handbook should be enforceable by anybody employed by Hart ISD as a coach.

The handbook's statement of purpose includes this: Opportunities will arise, through participating in athletics, that will build character, develop a sense of self-confidence, and help one overcome adversity.

In other action, the Board received preliminary results on the STAAR and the End-of-Course exams. Secondary principal Ramona Neudorf said that overall, the secondary scores were not "all that good." Elementary principal Lonnie Powell seemed pleased with the elementary scores, adding that preliminary results indicate the campus met all four indices of the STAAR. These four are: 1) Student Achievement; 2) Student Progress; 3) Closing Performance Gaps; and 4) Post Secondary Readiness.

The Joneses - In the back are B.J. Jones, Zach Jones and Weldon Jones. In the front are Kelsie Jones, Jonalyn Jones and Kelly Jones.

Attorney Fred Stormer met with the Board in executive session to bring them up-to-date on a settlement agreement with Linda V. Alaniz dba Educational Research Institute regarding Hart ISD's TTIPS Cycle 2 grant application. Alaniz has sued Hart ISD because she said some of the terminology used in the grant application was from the first Cyce 1 application, which was through her company. The agreement is in draft form; Stormer told The Pulse as soon as it is officially ready, the amount Hart ISD is to pay to Alaniz will be made public.

The Board approved Region 16 contracts at an annual cost of $36,225.09. The property tax rate of $1.17 was approved. A fuel bid price of 15¢ above cost from Jim Black Oil was accepted.

The workers' compensation annual premium of $10,490, and unemployment compensation premium of $4,939 were approved, both from the Texas Association of School Boards Risk Management Fund in Austin, Texas. And, a $26,539 annual premium for Property Risk was approved, also to be administered through the TASB Risk Management Fund.

Grandchildren - Weldon's and Jonalyn's grandchildren are, l to r, Blake Jones, Kelsie Jones and Zach Jones.

Weldon and Jonalyn with her brother, Gerald Alldredge. Gerald lives in Albuquerque, NM, and is a retired physicist.

EDC Cook-off Cancelled

Since several people who usually participate in the Hart Days cook-off sponsored by the Hart Economic Development Corporation will be out of town, the event has been canceled.

After an executive session, the Board approved the employment of Tim Ashlock as a high school math teacher and coach; he is from Dimmitt. Another teacher was employed, but on Tuesday, decided not to accept the offer. In a previous meeting, Abigail Martinez was employed as fourth-grade teacher. The resignation of Laura Zepeda was accepted.

Board members present were President Elodia Rodriguez, Martha Gonzales, Erasmo Mata, Steven Reyna, Angelica Ramirez and Vickie Chavez. Raul Gonzales was absent.