hate that Mother Nature sees fit to cause some tom cats to murder kittens. I know of no redeeming quality that a tomcat possesses other than to procreate, which sometimes brings us adorable little kitties. Tom cats' adult lives revolve around chasing women, fighting and sleeping. How useless!

Well, these little kitties are just adorable, but I can't keep all of them. I am willing to give them to someone who will take care of them, including their annual vaccinations.

I don't expect them to be house cats. I no longer want a house cat, even if I let Miss Kitty in the house at times to take a rest from all of her offspring. I want someone who will feed them and give them shelter. My phone number is 647-7419 if you are interested in my interviewing you. Ha!

Don has needed a hip replacement for years. If you saw him walk in the last year or so, it would make you hurt. Before he could have this surgery, the orthopedic surgeon told him he had to get his poor dental health taken care of. Don had what he called a bad experience with a dentist many years ago. His way of dealing with this was to never have a dentist look at his teeth—never. Until...read on. He ended up with much decay and had all of his teeth surgically removed in January. We started trying to get this all done last year, but because of what his non-Hodgkins lymphoma has done to his immune system, we kept having to reschedule surgery.

He now has dentures, which he is trying to get used to, and a new hip. Now, it's my turn...I need a knee replacement. I hope to get this done in the next few months. By the way, taking care of your teeth is mighty important, especially for heart health, and for other reasons. The orthopedist said that dental infection could affect the metal portion of the implant, and this infection is very difficult to contend with.

I am considering that this may be my last year to publish a print edition. It takes up too much of my time - I really don't know how I published a weekly newspaper for more than 30 years; some of those years, I was publishing two weeklies. I guess I could do that because I was younger.

It's difficult anymore to have enough ad revenue to make a paper worthwhile. I used to could depend on some advertisers that are no longer here. And, not having the owners/bosses live in the town where the business is means they have no connection to Hart. And, they don't see the need to support the newspaper. I no longer have the stamina to chase advertisers and stories that I deem are important for my readers. And, having an informed readership is important, and there are so few folks anymore who see the importance of having a newspaper that keeps one informed of what's going on in local government.

I plan to continue the website as long as I can. When I post a story, picture, etc. to the website, if I'm doing my job, online subscribers receive an email informing them of this posting. I urge you to consider an online subscription.

I am embarrassed to have Ted Cruz as a fellow Southern Baptist. John McCain is right—he is a Wackobird.
